

Title of Session: The Fever of '57

Moderator: Andree Duggan

Title of File: 20071003feverof57

Date: October 3, 2007

Room: After School Online

AndreeD: So while we're waiting

AndreeD: You can pop over to the site and view some of the clips

AndreeD: <http://www.thefeverof57.com>

BjB: We usually start all Tapped In discussions with brief introductions. I know Andree has a LOT to share with us today

AndreeD: Is that my cue?

BjB smiles...your cue to introduce yourself if you like!

AndreeD: No please, do the honors

BjB: I teach communication in Pennsylvania

MichaelH is a social studies teacher in southwestern Indiana, and host of the TAPPED IN Social Studies forum

AndreeD: I live in CT, and I'm involved in developing connections between TV project, the web and classrooms.

BjB: Michael has hosted several PBS discussions, Andree

DavidW: I'm one of the HelpDesk volunteers and I lead the math education and technology discussion in TI. I'm in New Jersey

AndreeD: Yes, we made that connection. Pretty neat!

JeffC waves. I'm in Oregon, on Helpdesk here

AndreeD: So I guess we can get started

AndreeD: I wanted to start by having you watch one or two clips from the Film

JeffC: btw... I was born 10/10/57.

AndreeD: Let me tell you a bit about it

AndreeD: David Hoffman, the filmmaker and I worked together

AndreeD: years ago in Maine

AndreeD: He's one of the top producers for PBS, Nova

AndreeD: American Experience, Turner

AndreeD: He's brilliant really

DavidW: cool

AndreeD: Anyhow -- he's also very funny

AndreeD: So he called me to ask if I'd help him get this great new project into the schools

AndreeD: And of course I jumped at the opportunity

AndreeD: Does anyone here recall Sputnik launch?

BjB raises her (old) hand

DavidW was born in 1959

MichaelH was two years old

AndreeD: I also was 2 years old

JeffC: was born a few days after it.

AndreeD: OK -- so that's why this project is so important

JeffC: I was called the sputnik baby.

BjB : I was a product of the New Science in Education movement

AndreeD: It helps us as a society remember a really important moment in history

AndreeD: So with this website

AndreeD: what we did was create a series of clips from the film that David selected for classrooms

AndreeD: for free

AndreeD: The footage rights for the film were $250K alone!

JeffC: eek!

JeffC: so much for Fair Use!

AndreeD: He also has a lot of never before seen footage, recently declassified footage

AndreeD: and home movies from the Khrushchev family

DavidW . o O ( lot of shoe-banging? )

AndreeD: What's shoe-banging

JeffC: Khrushchev banged his shoe at the U.N>

AndreeD: OH!

DavidW smiles

AndreeD: This first clip I wanted to show you is about Laika

AndreeD: the space dog

JeffC: David and I take any opportunity to inject humor into proceedings around here.

AndreeD: I'm glad

JeffC . o O ( DOOOOOGGGGGSSS IN SPAAAAAACCCCEEEEE!!! )

DavidW will try to interject more relevant humor, next time

AndreeD: So as you'll see, David is about building emotion in his films and that's why they're not boring

AndreeD: WOOF

MichaelH: Andree, if I can get a little serious at this point... what grade level is the site geared to? :)

AndreeD: So go here

AndreeD: <http://www.thefeverof57.com>

JeffC hopes they're not in B&W... cause that equals boring for kids today.

AndreeD: Grades 8 - college

AndreeD: We beta tested the film with kids

AndreeD: and we all know the 50's was B and W

MichaelH: I looked at this the other night... really a neat site

AndreeD: So David works very hard to make that disappear with great sound

AndreeD: great music, dramatic pace and story

AndreeD: So let's watch the clip on that homepage and then talk

MichaelH: I've never seen the Country Western singers sing about Laika

BjB watches

AndreeD: Well at any rate. Under Cool Video tab on the site

MichaelH: Andree, wasn't there some "fibbing" by the Russians about how Laika met her fate?

AndreeD: there are lots of other very nice clips from the film

AndreeD: Yes, the entire story is told in the film -- and there are different versions

AndreeD: of how she died. Some say she died on take off

AndreeD: Others that she lingered in space and ran out of Oxygen

MichaelH: I didn't know about the dying at takeoff... I thought I'd read where there was a cabin pressure failure and she did die prematurely

AndreeD: We developed an Exploration around Laika

AndreeD: If you click on the Teachers tab

AndreeD: Exploration 3 -- Was it right to send Laika the dog on a one way trip into space? Disciplines: Social Studies, History, Science, Language Arts.

AndreeD: Any questions so far?

AndreeD: Comments? Humor?

BjB : nope...no questions.

BjB : I like that the lessons are linked to the video clips

DavidW knows Jeff is hoping to see more cigarette commercials

AndreeD: Funny

JeffC: Gotta love the announcer commenting on the launching as "Russian propaganda."

AndreeD: But we tried hard to link the Explorations to the clips and to the entire film.

AndreeD: The film explores propaganda from both sides

JeffC: so where would the students go from there... that's good to hear.

AndreeD: From where?

JeffC: well... what would you do with it in the class?

AndreeD: OH

AndreeD: You can download the entire Exploration

AndreeD: and it details ideas for class

AndreeD: Each Exploration has a Teacher's Guide and Student Handout

AndreeD: and is supported by the Homework Helper

BjB : the student tab also has lots of supporting information

JeffC: download the 6 lessons, etc.

AndreeD: Yes

AndreeD: We tried to provide enough variation for various disciplines

BjB : nice homework helper

AndreeD: We tried to mix it up

AndreeD: I also asked David to have himself interviewed for the kids

AndreeD: So under Cool Videos there are several clips of David talking to the camera about his insights

BjB saw David on CBS Sunday Morning

AndreeD: He's pretty entertaining

MichaelH: Rats... I was on the road Sunday. We usually watch Sunday Morning every week

AndreeD: Well, you can listen to many of the clips that were on CBS Sunday morning right here!

MichaelH: great!

AndreeD: On that insights page

AndreeD: <http://www.thefeverof57.com/insights.html>

BjB looks at David's Film Parallels to Today

AndreeD: Would you like to listen to one now?

MichaelH would

AndreeD: Yes, the parallels to today -- a HUGE theme for classroom connections

AndreeD: The Rocket Boys story will also be interesting to young people

JeffC: if they're into rockets... or Elton John.

DavidW smiles

AndreeD: There was an outpouring of attention from HS kids to our Vanguard failure, to American being "behind"

JeffC: kids today need a different style of input quite a bit...

MichaelH: Homer Hickam was on the NBC Evening News tonight... about how seeing Sputnik got him interested

BjB: 4H still has Rocket clubs...might be a good audience for this film

AndreeD: My son who is 17

AndreeD: never watches docs

AndreeD: And he was glued to his seat for the entire thing

DavidW: there's a valuable endorsement

AndreeD: Well, I'm serious

DavidW: yes

BjB : what were his comments, Andree?

AndreeD: When I saw the film I knew kids would connect

AndreeD: And it would provide an opportunity

AndreeD: for teachers to teach about the Cold War,

AndreeD: the start of the space race

AndreeD: how NASA was born

AndreeD: and really what a surprisingly terrific leader Eisenhower was in hindsight

BjB : and the PASSION that took hold of the country

AndreeD: He kept the military out of space

BjB . o O ( passion for education )

AndreeD: It's a curious and quirky time

AndreeD: Check out this clip

AndreeD: http://www.thefeverof57.com/cool\_videos.html

AndreeD: The woman with the satellite in her hair

BjB smiles...cool

AndreeD: These are rare glimpses of Americana mixed in with the larger story of the arms race

AndreeD: and how close we came to WWII

AndreeD: Duck and cover drills

BjB nods.

BjB : Have we really come much further?

AndreeD: 57 Mega ton test in Soviet Russia

AndreeD: And perhaps the most important lesson is one of restraint

AndreeD: one of talking to the enemy

AndreeD: When things were really getting out of hand

AndreeD: with one ABOVE ground nuclear test every three days

BjB : great point, Andree

AndreeD: Eisenhower and Khrushchev got together

AndreeD: This is a story that has not been told

AndreeD: It comes from Khrushchev's son

AndreeD: He said Eisenhower invited Khrushchev to Camp David

AndreeD: and they both lamented about how their militaries were pushing them to build

AndreeD: bigger and bigger bombs

AndreeD: Khrushchev was about the best defense is a good offense

AndreeD: And it was largely a war of words

AndreeD: that neither man really wanted to see go farther

AndreeD: So Eisenhower says to Khrushchev, what if you and I have a secret pact

AndreeD: I won't push the button if you won't

AndreeD: They bonded and from that point forward, tensions began to ease a bit

MichaelH: wow, I had never heard THAT story

AndreeD: NASA became a Civilian Space Agency

DavidW: I thought there was an offer from Eisenhower allowing for Russians to fly-over the US for arms verification

AndreeD: Eisenhower launched a secret satellite with his voice -- the first voice

AndreeD: This was a backroom story that you hear in the film from Sergei Khrushchev

AndreeD: and the voice wished the World a peaceful Christmas

MichaelH: was that the OPEN SKIES thing, David?

DavidW: I think so, Michael

AndreeD: I met Sergei Khrushchev the other night. He's a very nice man

AndreeD: He was saying we were both the evil empire to the other

AndreeD: And so today, with that word evil heard so much

AndreeD: It's important to learn about this story

AndreeD: That diplomacy is so incredibly important

AndreeD: Has this been helpful?

MichaelH: very much so.

DavidW: It's a superb topic, Andree. We should try to schedule another time when we might draw a bigger audience for you

BjB: I think it's been fascinating, Andree. It's so important to make history relate to the contemporary world

AndreeD: I know it's really hard to get kids today to think about the past

BjB: Andree wanted to get this in before tomorrow's anniversary date

AndreeD: Perhaps it's difficult to get anyone to think about the past but us buffs

MichaelH: Andree... a quick promotional question...

AndreeD: Sure

DavidW: Well, there is Ken Burns

AndreeD: Dah

DavidW smiles

MichaelH: do you have a promotional e-mail or something similar?

AndreeD: Yes, he's the master

MichaelH: I moderate three listservs for Social Studies teachers, and also am teaching a social studies methods class online right now

AndreeD: We were scrambling to get the site done and so not really yet

AndreeD: I can put something together for you

AndreeD: and you can edit it

MichaelH: I could forward information whenever you have it ready. You can send it to me at mhutch@charter.net

AndreeD: Great

AndreeD: Also, if you guys could take my little survey that would help

MichaelH: I sent the announcement BJ made about the session... but if there's more you want to mention about the site, go ahead and add it

AndreeD: We're actually looking for funding so we can lower the price for educators

MichaelH: Would PBS be interested in underwriting?

AndreeD: We've been getting tons of traffic across the site from David's publicity tour

AndreeD: But I would like to see this get to anyone who wants it

AndreeD: I had the filmmaker split the film into three sections for classrooms

AndreeD: And we do have the free clips on the site, but they only go so far

AndreeD: So that's my goal

AndreeD: But certainly we'll have the schools that want the film for their archive

AndreeD: similar to a Ken Burns film

BjB: where is your survey, Andree?

AndreeD: Off the homepage

AndreeD: It's four quick questions

MichaelH: BJ, how about at another time we have Andree come back (when her schedule permits), and do a combined session with you and me in a Social Studies forum?

DavidW . o O ( third line down below "Watch Clip" )

AndreeD: That would be fun

DavidW thinks Michael's idea is excellent

AndreeD: We could talk generally about use of TV and web in class

MichaelH: My sessions are on the second and fourth Wednesday of each month, Andree... same time as your session tonight

MichaelH . o O ( maybe we could do it before the holidays, or early next year? )

AndreeD: Sure

BjB smiles happily

MichaelH: Will the film be featured at all at the NCSS Conference in San Diego?

AndreeD: Also. We'll take the conversation off board

AndreeD: We're looking to the spring National conference

AndreeD: to have David and perhaps Paul Dickson and maybe even Sergei for a panel

MichaelH: NCSS is at the end of November...

MichaelH: that would be cool... BJ and I could definitely handle logistics and publicity for that

AndreeD: I was told the national conference is in March

AndreeD: no?

MichaelH: there are some regional conferences in the late winter and spring

MichaelH: the "Great Lakes" conference (where I am) is in late February

MichaelH: National conference is really late November in San Diego

AndreeD: Oh -- regional then

MichaelH: that would definitely be a nice place to be between Thanksgiving and Christmas!

AndreeD: I think we're too late for November

MichaelH: I could invite you to present at the Great Lakes Conference (in Indianapolis)

MichaelH: six states around the midwest...

AndreeD: Sounds great. Let's discuss. Can I get everyone's email?

MichaelH: We'll need to get you (and David or whoever) signed up as a concurrent session by Nov. 1... does that cut it too close?

AndreeD: And then I have to run -- as I'm going into another call after this. Thank you so much. Survey is on a tab on the www.thefeverof57.com homepage

AndreeD: No, I can do that

MichaelH: thanks for joining us, Andree... a great session

DavidW: Thanks, Andree

BjB: Thanks, Andree. Wonderful discussion

BjB waves goodnight

MichaelH waves
